

ACADEMIC PROGRAM REVIEW TEMPLATE

Program reviews are conducted once every five years, providing academic departments within Arizona Western College the opportunity to critically examine how well they are meeting their objectives. The review process requires departments to document what is being done well, to identify areas where things need improvement, and to plan for the future. Program reviews are the foundation upon which all departments assess, maintain, and enhance program quality and vitality.

A program review addresses:

- What a program/department is doing, why, how, and how well.
- The quality of the program(s).
- Evidence of program outcomes.
- How the program be improved and how the improvement can be sustained.

A program can be defined as:

- A sequence of prescribed courses, which may or may not include general education courses and/or electives, that leads to an officially recognized associate degree or certificate
- The general education component of an associate degree
- Courses in a specific discipline, such as a pathway toward a university program
- Pre-collegiate or developmental courses, such as English or Mathematics
- Special programs for selected students, such as Honors

The following report framework is required to ensure departments conduct an analysis of what it is aiming to accomplish and how successful it is in doing so. The framework breaks down the program review in five sections. All IR data required in the program review will be provided in August of the academic year the program review is due to be completed.

In this first section, please provide a brief description of the program to an audience who may be unfamiliar with the program. You will have the opportunity to provide greater detail throughout the document.
