Community College Transforms Lives

When we gather each Spring at Commencement the community gets a quick visual reminder of the culmination of several years worth of effort. Our students are both young and old, many are parents, and most are working full- or part-time while attending college. While we have the pleasure of working with them every week of every semester, and understanding both their struggles and their dreams, the biggest part of their effort goes on behind the scenes for many people in Yuma and La Paz Counties. And yet, you benefit. You benefit when your neighbors get good jobs and can contribute to the tax base. You benefit when your company can hire skilled, productive employees. You benefit when voters in your area understand the issues as they fill out a ballot.

At AWC, we also benefit when students complete their studies and accept their diploma – colleges are increasingly measured on how they prepare students to persist in school, and to complete. Arizona Western College has the highest retention and transfer rate in the state. Our students not only finish with us, but they also transfer to nearby universities, where they finish their bachelor's degree at a rate that beats the state average for college transfers, and in greater numbers than students who went directly to a university. Winning the statistical race is not the reason we are happy, although that's nice. We are happy because the students we work with have personal, meaningful dreams. They come to us because they see something bigger in their lives. They want to make a contribution, and they need training and a degree or certificate to be able to do that. They are planning to be nurses or engineers, to craft public policy or fight fires, to serve families or start a small business. And we know we are uniquely prepared to help them get there.

Across the country, community colleges are the change agents in higher education. Our graduates have not walked this path alone. They've forged partnerships to help them succeed. They have created friendships with their co-workers and fellow club members on campus. They have benefited from dozens of big and small interactions from peer mentors to classmates to student tutors to their caring, highly-qualified faculty. They have done all of this in an environment designed to help them be successful: small class sizes, low tuition, personalized attention. We work every day to live up to the confidence they have in our ability to help them change their lives and to energize the community around them.

Arizona Western College Community Band

Formed in 1976, the Community Band offers brass, woodwind and percussion players the opportunity to rehearse and perform the finest classical concert band music. This large ensemble attracts musicians of all ages from across Yuma County and sometimes as far away as the Imperial Valley. Along with playing for graduation ceremonies, the band is featured on the AWC music program's annual Christmas Gala and performs numerous free public concerts throughout the year.

The Academic Apparel

For the benefit of our guests the following information may prove helpful in identifying the apparel you may see in the Commencement Procession. The present-day academic apparel seems to have originated in the 1300s at the English universities of Oxford and Cambridge. As the universities passed from church control, the academic gown used brighter colors to distinguish it from the clerical robe. Although colonial American universities used academic gowns based on the British system, people continued to associate them with the clergy.

In the 1880s a student movement centering in New England instigated the establishment of a "senior badge," to improve commencement week exercises and revive the traditions of university life. In 1893, an intercollegiate commission established a uniform code for caps, gowns and hoods for the various degrees.

Black is the recommended color for all academic gowns: associate, bachelor and master gowns are untrimmed. Doctoral gowns are faced with black velvet or the color associated with the degree, with three bars across the sleeves.

Of the three components, the hood is the most interesting. Originally, it had three uses: as a head covering, as a shoulder cape and as a bag in which alms could be collected. It is mentioned as early as 1480 in clerical literature. When large wigs were in vogue in Britain, the cape part of the hood was allowed to fall back as it is today and it was never restored to the original style.

The hood differs in length for the master and the doctoral degrees. It is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. The hood lining colors of the three Arizona universities are: Arizona State University, maroon and gold; Northern Arizona University, navy blue and gold; and University of Arizona, crimson and blue. Hoods are edged and bound with velvet of the color appropriate for the degree. The hood colors associated with the different subjects are listed below.

Mortarboards are the approved headgear. Matador Red and Sky Stone tassels are worn on the left side of the cap; gold tassels are used to represent an honor graduate from AWC.

Speakers

Dr. Daniel P. Corr, President of Arizona Western College

Dr. Daniel P. Corr began his tenure as the tenth President of Arizona Western College (AWC) in July 2016. During his tenure, he has been committed to building on the tremendous success achieved by AWC and has already become an active member of the many communities served by the college. He has focused his early efforts on facilitating student success, increasing access to higher education, executing a newly adopted strategic plan, and fostering a climate of innovation, collaboration and stewardship at AWC.

Prior to assuming the role of AWC's President, Dr. Corr held a variety of instructional and administrative positions at four different community colleges in Arizona and Illinois. All told, he has over 30 years of experience at the community college level.

Dr. Corr has always placed an emphasis on establishing and maintaining partnerships.

He also remains committed to being responsive to community business needs.

Dr. Corr serves on a number of local, state, and national boards. However, his greatest passion is for AWC's students and their success.

Adail Corona, AWC Student Speaker

Adail Corona will be graduating with an Associate of Arts in Psychology along with an AGECA Certification. She will continue her educational journey at Northern Arizona University Yuma for a degree in psychological sciences, before entering the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Master program here at NAU-Yuma. Adail graduated from Cibola High School with honors, serving as the senior class vice president, and a varsity athlete. She is a highly dedicated student with a genuine love of learning, who spends her free time staying physically active and helping Yuma's youth; Adail wants to fulfill her long-term dream of dedicating her life to counseling, educational initiatives, and contributing to her community.

Adail is a proud member of the Yuma Educational Success Program and Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society. While at AWC, she has served as the president of the NAU-AWC Psychology club, sang with the AWC Chamber singers, and enjoyed working as a part-time admissions and registrations clerk.

Adail is excited to be the 2024 Student Speaker because she believes her story embodies the essence of what Arizona Western College stands for; her experience, challenges, achievements reflect the transformative work of education and opportunities provided by AWC. Adail is proud to be a Matador and it is this sense of belonging and pride that inspires her to represent her college.

Tiffani Satterelli, NAU Student Speaker

Tiffani Satterelli is a vibrant force in motivational speaking, team building, remote connections, and positive thinking. A recipient of the Northern Arizona University Gold Axe Award and member of the Dean's List, she will graduate this May with a 4.0 GPA and a bachelor's degree in Strategic Leadership and prior associate in arts degree with Distinction. In Tiffani's 23 years at Mayo Clinic, the significance of teamwork within a remote workforce environment has been a central focus of her professional career, where she currently excels as facilitator, distance connector, joy enthusiast, and influencer. Her drive for fostering positive interactions has led to the creation of The Cup of Joy Viva Engage Community. She is a dynamic host for podcasts, vodcasts, and the Mayo Clinic Enterprise Remote Worker Speaker Series. Tiffani is also a business consultant and hosts the Keep Shining and Cup of Joy Pre Show Extravaganzas, where she offers ice breakers, trivia and team building engagement at the beginning of corporate meetings and events. As she steps into the future, her unwavering commitment to inspire others cements her status as a vanguard of joy and remote connections in the digital age.

Brandy Rice, UA Student Speaker

Brandy Rice was born in Escondido, California, on May 30, 1985. Her childhood was spent in Blue Ridge, Georgia, where she faced adverse experiences that led her to relocate to San Diego, California, during her adolescent years. Brandy was involved in several high school extracurriculars, including student council, dance, and theater. After relocating to Kingman, Arizona, in 2003, adapting to the school system proved challenging, resulting in Brandy dropping out of high school during her senior year in 2004. Brandy worked as a caregiver throughout her young adulthood. She started a family in 2006 with the birth of her son, Justin, followed by her daughter, Sarina, in 2008. As a single parent, Brandy continued to work as a caregiver, supplemented with a second job as a waitress. Brandy earned her GED at Arizona Western College in 2019, following relocation to Yuma in 2011, the birth of her son Elijah in 2013, and the blending of her family with her marriage to John Rice in 2014. Brandy then enrolled in the Social Sciences Program at AWC, earning her associate degree with high academic distinction in 2022. Acceptance into the Family Science and Human Development Program at The University of Arizona followed. While balancing her roles as a mother of five and a wife and in community outreach, Brandy became a leader among her peers at the classroom and community level while attending the University of Arizona-Yuma. She held leadership positions within the WesternCats for the Community Club, working alongside club members and agencies to deliver community service initiatives benefiting marginalized groups, including foster children and women, while maintaining a 4.0 GPA. Brandy also completed two internships, which led to employment offers in victim support. Brandy Rice's plans for the future include aligning herself with a support agency that shares her vision to bring healing and hope to trauma victims, pursue a graduate degree, and establish a nonprofit organization in Yuma, Arizona.

Karla Vera, ASU Student Speaker

Karla Vera graduated Arizona Western College with an associate in business, with the highest academic distinction of a 4.0 GPA. During her time at AWC Karla served as the Student Government President, Matador Ambassador, Residential Assistant, and represented AWC in the AZ HSI Summit. After earning her associate degree, Karla transferred to Arizona State University, forming part of the founding cohort of the ASU Local Yuma program, where her passion for leadership drove her to being the first student leader at the Yuma site. Her community involvement and willingness to help, make her an outstanding student leader in the Yuma Community. In 2022 she was awarded the 20 Under 40 Rising Star Award, being the youngest person to receive this award. Vera worked as a policy intern with the United States Agency of International Development in 2023 and recently fulfilled her internship role as a Policy Intern for the Arizona House of Representatives working in the State Capitol. After graduating Arizona State University with a bachelor's degree in business law, Karla will attend Law School to earn her Juris Doctor in Corporate Law. Karla enjoys spending time with her loved ones, reading, traveling, and learning about new cultures, and takes great pride in her Hispanic heritage, hometown, San Luis, Arizona and background, motivating other students to embrace their roots and communities.
