

ARIZONA WESTERN COLLEGE
SYLLABUS

PHI 240 ANCIENT PHILOSOPHY/GE

Credit Hours: 3 Lec 3

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Examines the contributions made by ancient Greek and Roman thinkers to the western philosophical and scientific tradition. A broad range of topics will be covered including: the universe, law, justice, knowledge, virtue, happiness, death, and god. Emphasis will be placed on the writings and thought of Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle.

1. COURSE GOALS

- 1.1 Elucidate the foundational principles, methods, virtues, and purposes of philosophical speculation and inquiry
- 1.2 Articulate the major ideas, figures, philosophical schools, and intellectual traditions that emerge during the classical period
- 1.3 Describe the role the ancient philosophical tradition played in shaping and sculpting the distinctive topics and issues addressed throughout the history of philosophy, but also the impact it had and continues to have on other domains of inquiry (e.g., law, politics, science, religion, etc.)
- 1.4 Fine-tune strategies for reading, analyzing, and evaluating complex ideas and issues contained within the classical philosophical literature
- 1.5 Provide tools and opportunities for critical reflection, discussion, and development of one's own views on the course content

2. OUTCOMES

Upon satisfactory completion of this course, students will be able to:

- 2.1 recognize and explain conventional terminology and vocabulary used within the discipline
- 2.2 analyze and evaluate an argument using principles of logic and critical reasoning
- 2.3 interpret relevant primary and secondary source texts as well as extract crucial information (e.g., main thesis, premises, assumptions, etc.) central to the claims being made in those texts
- 2.4 employ the Socratic method of questioning as one engages in dialogue and debate, upholding the "interrogative attitude" as one participates in discussion
- 2.5 describe how the use of reason and systematic observation were first utilized in the study of nature by the pre-Socratics thinkers, as well as how this approach either stood in contrast to or was integrated with the mythical worldview of the ancient world
- 2.6 identify the unique contributions made to the major branches of philosophical study (e.g., epistemology, ontology, metaphysics, and value theory) as they appear in the classics of the Greco-Roman world
- 2.7 explain the major ideas, arguments, and values defended by the seminal figures of the period (i.e., Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle) or schools (e.g., the pluralists, monists, skeptics, sophists, etc.), showing additionally how the views of later thinkers can be seen as either extensions of or departures from earlier thinkers
- 2.8 articulate the distinctive contributions of ancient thinkers to the development of jurisprudence, the role of government, and the nature of justice
- 2.9 compare and contrast the broad worldview features of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers of the Hellenistic period

7. STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

- 7.1 Under AWC Policy, students are expected to attend every session of class in which they are enrolled.
- 7.2 If a student is unable to attend the course or must drop the course for any reason, it will be the responsibility of the student to withdraw from the course. Students who are not attending as of the 45th day of the course may be withdrawn by the instructor. If the student does not withdraw from the course and fails to complete the requirements of the course, the student will receive a failing grade.
- 7.3 Americans with Disabilities Act Accommodations: Arizona Western College provides academic accommodations to students with disabilities through AccessABILITY Resource Services (ARS). ARS provides reasonable and appropriate accommodations to students who have documented disabilities. It is the responsibility of the student to make the ARS Coordinator aware of the need for accommodations in the classroom prior to the beginning of the semester. Students should follow up with their instructors once the semester begins. To make an appointment call the ARS front desk at (928) 344-7674 or ARS Coordinator at (928) 344-7629, in the College Community Center (3C) building, next to Advising.
- 7.4 Academic Integrity: Any student participating in acts of academic dishonesty—including, but not limited to, copying the work of other students, using unauthorized "crib notes", plagiarism, stealing tests, or forging an instructor's signature—will be subject to the procedures and consequences outlined in AWC's Student Code of Conduct.
- 7.5 Texts and Notebooks: Students are required to obtain the class materials for the course.
- 7.6 Arizona Western College students are expected to attend every class session in which they are enrolled. To comply with Federal Financial Aid regulations (34 CFR 668.21), Arizona Western College (AWC) has established an Attendance Verification process for "No Show" reporting during the first 10 days of each semester. Students who have enrolled but have never attended class may be issued a "No Show" (NS) grade by the professor or instructor and receive a final grade of "NS" on their official academic record. An NS grade may result in a student losing their federal financial aid. For online classes, student attendance in an online class is defined as the following (FSA Handbook, 2012, 5-90):

- 7.6.1 Submitting an academic assignment
- 7.6.2 Taking an exam, an interactive tutorial or computer-assisted instruction
- 7.6.3 Attending a study group that is assigned by the school
- 7.6.4 Participating in an online discussion about academic matters
- 7.6.5 Initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course
